

Bmore Art

BALTIMORE'S TEN MUST-SEE FALL ART EXHIBITS

AMBER EVE ANDERSON × SEPTEMBER 18, 2017

Ten Exhibits Opening This Fall That You Absolutely Need to See by Amber Eve Anderson

W

ith fall at our doorstep and Baltimore abuzz with students, the peak season in the art world has arrived. From museum shows to artist-run spaces, these picks show the breadth of Baltimore's best.

| 'sindikit |

presents

Bonnie Collura

+

Stephanie J. Williams

September 17 - October 28, 2017

Opening September 17 • 4 - 6p

405 E. Oliver St. 2nd Floor
Baltimore MD 21202
| hours by appointment |

Bonnie Collura's sculptures are slick, writhing combinations of casts and fiber remnants that reference the bodily and the imperfect. The work of Stephanie J. Williams has an obvious relationship to Collura's, but her sculptures, wearables and animations feel somehow more internal when it comes to one's relationship with the body. 'sindikit is premised upon bringing artists together to do new work that pushes the artists' boundaries.

I'm especially looking forward to the discussion following the opening at the Reinstitute with Guest Spot, the first in a recurring dinner discussion around identity and the arts. More info at: <http://www.guestspot.org/>.